

HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY

Mack Project Engineering Group considers occupational health and safety as a basic prerequisite for successful conduction of business and is committed to ensure the conditions for all working activities carried out within its framework, in order to be performed in a safe manner and in safe environment for all participants.

Mack Project Engineering Group is committed to preventive actions for protection of health and safety, with the strategic aim to ensure the healthy and safe working environment on all our projects being presented by Mack Project Engineering Group as a low-risk company in the world Market.

We expect from our employees, customers and contractors to be proactively personally involved, responsible and to develop a positive awareness of health and safety.

In order to meet its obligations, Mack Project Engineering Group Management provides and maintains a safe and healthy working environment in accordance with industry standards, legal regulations and specific requirements of the contract with the Client.

Responsibility for health and safety is divided among all employees on all working levels and represents the direct obligation for all managers and employees. Every employee is responsible for reducing the risk within the scope of his /her working place.

Mack Project Engineering Group Management confirms by this Statement and in accordance with the overall company policy and policy of quality management system ISO 9001, its commitment to meet all the requirements applying to the occupational health and safety.

Lugano, 01.03.2010

President
Zoran Winkler

